

Chapter 1: Introduction

Introduction

Last time, we started a rather ambitious project. Our goal was a program that would produce and process this window:

Our GUI Pizza application

We weren't able to finish it in one lesson, so we're going to continue working on it today. (We'll finish it this time!)

Last time, we got everything to show up in the window except the bottom section, with the title Deliver To:. That's where we'll start today.

Just in case anyone needs or wants it, click below for my version of the program so far.
